

Have you seen this billboard?

OWATC worked with the Ogden-Weber Chamber of Commerce and Weber Economic Development Corporation to create a billboard and Web site campaign informing Weber County residents of the opportunity for careers through technical training.

Did you know?:

- Over 90 percent of the jobs that pay enough to support a family require some education beyond high school.
- In coming years, health care will become the #1 industry in our community.
- Manufacturing pays an average of $1000 more per month than jobs in other industries.

There are good jobs for workers with the right skills, even during a recession. There are far too many people who do not get the necessary training to tap into the great jobs available. Local companies can't grow if they aren't supplied with trained employees and may be forced to leave for other regions or out of the country. That is why this campaign directs Weber County residents to the resources needed to qualify for high-paying careers that are in high-demand.
